This screenshot shows a software interface with a grid of data. The grid is organized into several columns and rows. The top row contains several small rectangular boxes, likely representing headers or labels. Below this, there are several columns of data, each containing multiple rows of horizontal lines, suggesting a list or table of items. The interface has a dark background with light-colored text and lines. At the bottom, there is a toolbar with various icons and a status bar with some text.

This screenshot shows a software interface similar to the one above, but for a different category. It features a grid of data with a dark background and light-colored text. The layout is consistent, with a header row at the top and several columns of data below. The data is represented by horizontal lines within the grid cells. A toolbar and status bar are visible at the bottom of the window.
